COASTAL CAROLINA COLLEGE

Conway, South Carolina

Dedication:
Dr. Robert W. Squatriglia

No one could better represent our theme of Happiness Is . . . Coastal Carolina College than Dr. Robert W. Squatriglia. Born in Waterbury, Connecticut, he has an impressive educational history, a wide variety of professional experiences, along with numerous memberships and honors. Dr. Squatriglia received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the College of William and Mary, and his Ph.D. (with honors) from the University of South Carolina. His previous positions include: Assistant Dean of Men at the College of William and Mary; Graduate Assistant, Instructor, and Counselor at U.S.C. — Columbia; Vice-President of Student Affairs at State University College in Brockport, New York; and Associate Dean of Student Affairs at State University of New York, Albany.

Dr. Bob with his side-kick, Chris McNeill

Presently Dean of Student Development here at Coastal, Dr. Bob (also known on occasion as "Dr. Squat") stays very involved on our campus. A few of these involvements are: The Student Media Committee, O.D.K. faculty advisor, Vice-President for Programming of P.D.K., and The Student Affairs Committee.

Dr. Bob Squatriglia

His prized baseball memorabilia

Dr. Bob and his wife, Betty, have four children; Robby, Katie, Beth, and Stephen.

He is an avid baseball fan, most particularly following the New York Yankees, and the impressive collection of autographed pictures in his gameroom attests to his enthusiasm.

Always ready to help

Katie, Betty, Robby, Beth, and Stephen (with their dog, Spanky)

For your committment to the continued improvement of Coastal Carolina College and your involvement with the student body, Dr. Bob, we happily dedicate this edition of the ATHENEUM to you.

In a world like this ...

Wars, starvation, inflation, national and international disasters, corruption, pollution ... pressures coming from many sources can make the future seem bleak indeed, and can make us wonder how we can cope.

We need a place ...

As the future leaders of this world, we need a place to think, to learn, to grow. We also need a place to express ourselves in ways that fit our individual personalities.

Like Coastal Carolina College

In spite of the problems that are facing our nation's colleges and universities, many positive things are happening here at Coastal.

Increased enrollment, expanded parking facilities, and campus landscaping are just a few of the indications that here at Coastal we have a good thing going. The wedding under the Atheneum illustrates that social as well as educational experiences can take place at Coastal.

ACTIVITIES

As the Brew Flows

Beer, games, beer, food, beer, and music are the ingredients of a successful CINO (*C*oastal *I*s *N*umber *O*ne) Day. This year was no exception. Over 10 kegs of brew were consumed on the steps of the College Center, while contests were held to determine who could stack beer cases the highest. Keg rolling, hula hoop twirling and just plain fun added to the pre-exam merriment.

The End Is a Beginning

The place was Kimbel Gymnasium and the event was Graduation 1980. The date: Saturday, May 10, 1980. Speaker of the House Rex Carter addressed the May graduates as President Holderman and Chancellor Singleton awarded the degrees. There were 19 Associate Degrees in Technical Nursing, 70 Bachelor of Arts Degrees, 80 Bachelor of Science Degrees, 12 Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies Degrees, and 18 Master of Education Degrees granted. Each recipient was proud to receive the coveted sheepskin. Good luck, graduates!

REGISTRATION — MASS CONFUSION

Those students who are unable to CAR register must endure reglar registration at Williams Brice Gymnasium. Lines, forms, lines, forms, and plenty of waiting around. If the class you planned to take was filled up, it's back into line to sign up for another one. Follow the arrows from room to room, and good luck!

SCSSL IN ACTION

nt Carter at the debates, and the new ban-r for SCSSL is first used in public. The astal Delegation helped to make the SCSSL nner.

Bottom Right: The Coastal Carolina Delegation took time out of compiling the billbooks to remember the U.S. hostages in Iran. On November 4, on the one year anniversary of their capture, the delegation placed large yellow bows on the front and back entrace pillars of Coastal Carolina College as a reminder of the hostages' plight. These yellow bows will remain until the hostages are released.

EXCELLENCY ACKNOWLEDGED

Last Spring the Sixth Annual Awards Banquet was held at the Landmark Hotel. Following a dinner, Dr. Squatriglia presided over the presentations. Some of the categories in which awards were given were: SGA officers, Class Presidents, Pulbications, Athletics, Honorary Academic awards and awards in eacb of the individual disciplines.

Certificates were presented to the members of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Dr. Squatriglia was quoted as saying that "The Banquet was an outstanding success due to the outstanding cooperation between all parties concerned."

KLOWNING AROUND

On December 6, the Koastal Klowns participated in the annual Conway Christmas parade. The Klowns, joined by the Coastal Carolina Chanticleer, went through the streets of Conway spreading holiday cheer and giving candy to the young. A couple of the highlights were Harry Rogers carrying his nephew on his shoulders while riding a unicycle and Clark Vereen expertly applying make-up to one of the klowns.

PRESENTING THE ENTERTAINERS

Through the sponsorship of Campus Union, these performers have entertained us throughout this year. On November 20, Mike Cross appeared in concert at the College Center. On March 17, Chuck Mitchell entertained us for talent night. For Cino Day everyone enjoyed the Full Circle Band. Campus Union should be commended for their excellent selection of performers. They were enjoyed by many.

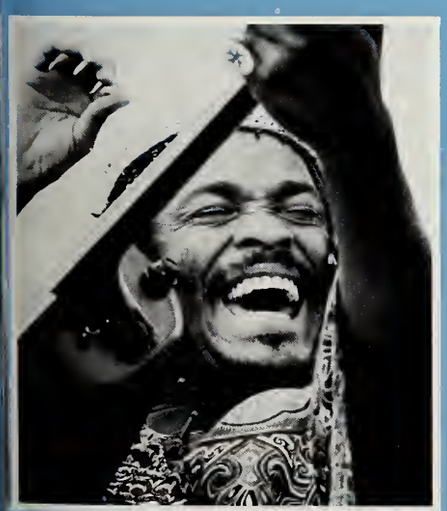

The Mighty Majors Band performed for the Spring Formal. The Amida Band provided the entertainment for the Christmas Formal which was December 5 at the Landmark. On September 17, John Bayley was present for a Coffeehouse Performance in the College Center. On October 9th and 10th, Barry Drake provided entertainment for another Coffeehouse in the College Center.

Coastal Classes Leave the Classroom

Professor Joyce Parker's Children's Literature class decorated the Singleton House in Conway in a Mother Goose motif as a class project. Children from the community were invited to participate in a game or teaching tool to emphasize the story, and also received a small gift from each of the characters.

A tour of the house took about 45 minutes and included puppet shows, refreshments and nursery rhymes. A nice change from a traditional final exam.

The Anthropology class at Coastal Carolina found pieces of Indian pottery dating back to 1000-5000 B.C. on a site off US 501 near Waccamaw Academy. According to Dr. Reinhold Engelmayer, instructor of the class, an Indian settlement was once located on the site. A fire place area was also unearthed.

SENIORS SPONSOR TURKEY SHOOT

In order to raise money for student activities, the Senior Class sponsored two turkey shoots. The first was held on Saturday, November 15. The second was held Friday and Saturday, December 12 and 13. The shoots were held at the Coastal Mall in Conway.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION WITH WINE & CHEESE

There was a large crowd at the CCC Christmas Wine and Cheese Party sponsored by SCSSL and SGA. They served white and red wines, and various cheeses and crackers. A Christmas tree was standing and students were supposed to bring an ornament to the party. However the tree had about three decorations total. The party took place December 3, 1980 at 1:30 p.m.

Waccamaw Regional Studies

Coastal Carolina is exploring the history and culture of the Waccamaw Region and is rapidly developing into a resource center for information on the area stretching from the North Carolina border through Horry and Georgetown counties to Winyah Bay and the Atlantic Ocean. The new venture, "The Waccamaw Regional Studies Project," is funded by a grant from the South Carolina Committee for the Humanities, is a continuing project at Coastal Carolina College. The basic goals of the project are to promote research into the area and to disseminate the information to the public. Historian and folklorist Charles W. Joyner, serves as director of the Waccamaw Regional Studies Project.

Solar Research Begun at Coastal

Solar energy research, a new project at Coastal Carolina College, received much recognition. The $400,000 solar energy research project is a study of the practicality of heating and cooling with the sun's energy. Coastal professor Harry Robison of Litchfield Beach is director of the experiment. Robison believes the solar theories he will study should reach the commercial market in about two years.

CHRISTMAS FORMAL

There was plenty to eat and drink and plenty of people to do the eating and drinking at the Christmas Formal, sponsored by Campus Union, and held at the Landmark on December 5. Beer, wine, and champagne were free, poured by Business Club members. Entertainment was provided by "AMIDA". It was an evening to join your friends in forgetting that finals week was just two days away.

Fifty-Five Participants

Spring orientation was held on Thursday, January 8, 1981 in the College Center. Approximately 55 students participated in their first experience with Coastal Carolina College. Welcome new students!

And from then on, students have been taking active part in the club, culminating with the International Coffee House at the Spring '80 Fine Arts Festival.

Chants Return to Court

The 1980-81 Chant Basketball team should have a very good season, despite what its final record might show. This season will be one of the toughest schedules the Chants have faced in its history.

Team speed will make up for height. A good attitude, unselfishness, and willingness to give 100% towards victory characterizes this year's team.

Nate Gagum is the only senior on the squad, so Burgman will have a group of experienced players returning.

Burgman expects the Chants to win their first District VI Championship, then travel to Kansas City for the National NAIA Championships.

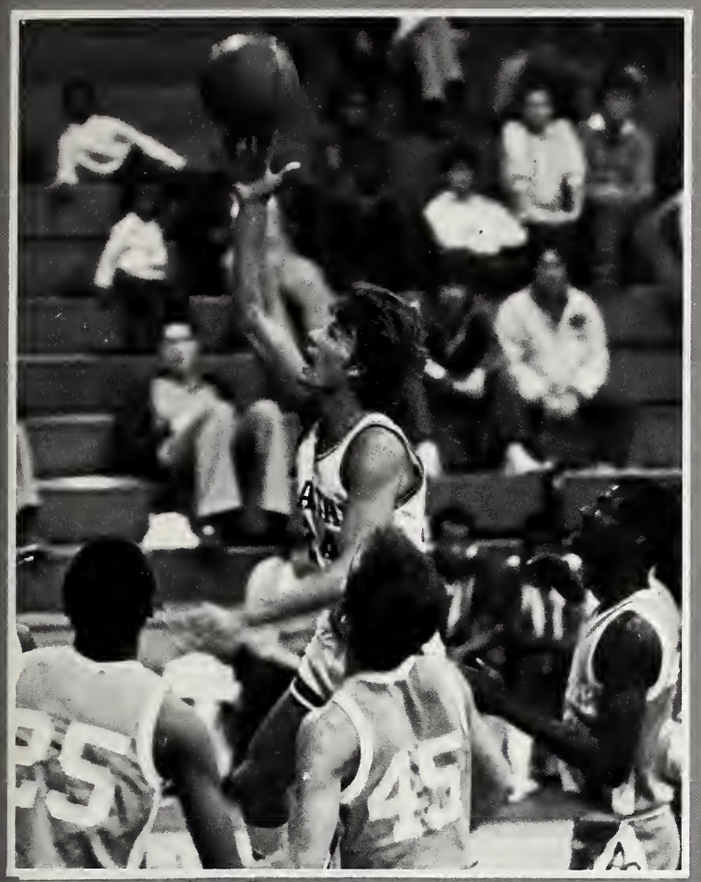

Burgman's new assistant coach is a former Coastal player from Rockville, Maryland. His name is Dennis Casey. Good luck Chants.

Women's Basketball

Sherry Barnhill goes for two.

This season was very disappointing for the Lady Chants. A very young and inexperienced team was the cause for the disappointing season. The 80-81 season was a rebuilding year for the women's team. Last year's team graduated except for four returning players.

Coastal's outstanding player is Sherry Barnhill. She plays a very consistent game and is a improving player. She has possible all state potential.

"The biggest disappointment is just putting the ball in the net, but they play good defense and offense," Steve Taylor says.

Good luck next year lady Chants.

After tryouts on September 29, the cheerleaders for the 1980-81 school year were chosen. Kathy Rion is the captain of the ten member squad and Joy Stewart is the assistant captain. Other cheerleaders are Lisa Rhue, Susan Gambrell, Michelle Loftus, Lisa Woodberry, Sabrina Rhinehart, Paula Donlon, Susan Tomko and Tina Burgman.

A new addition to the team is our mascot, the Chanticleer. The suit is worn alternately by Derek Myers and Norm Evans.

The 1979-80 Chants baseball team had one of its best seasons. With a record of 29-7 in the regular season play, the team advanced to the District 6 playoffs. Coastal won the District 6 Championship for the third straight year. Coastal was ranked 13 nationally, with a record of 33-8. Coastal then advanced to the NAIA World Series in Nashville, Tennessee, but losing 2 out of 4 games was eliminated from the Series.

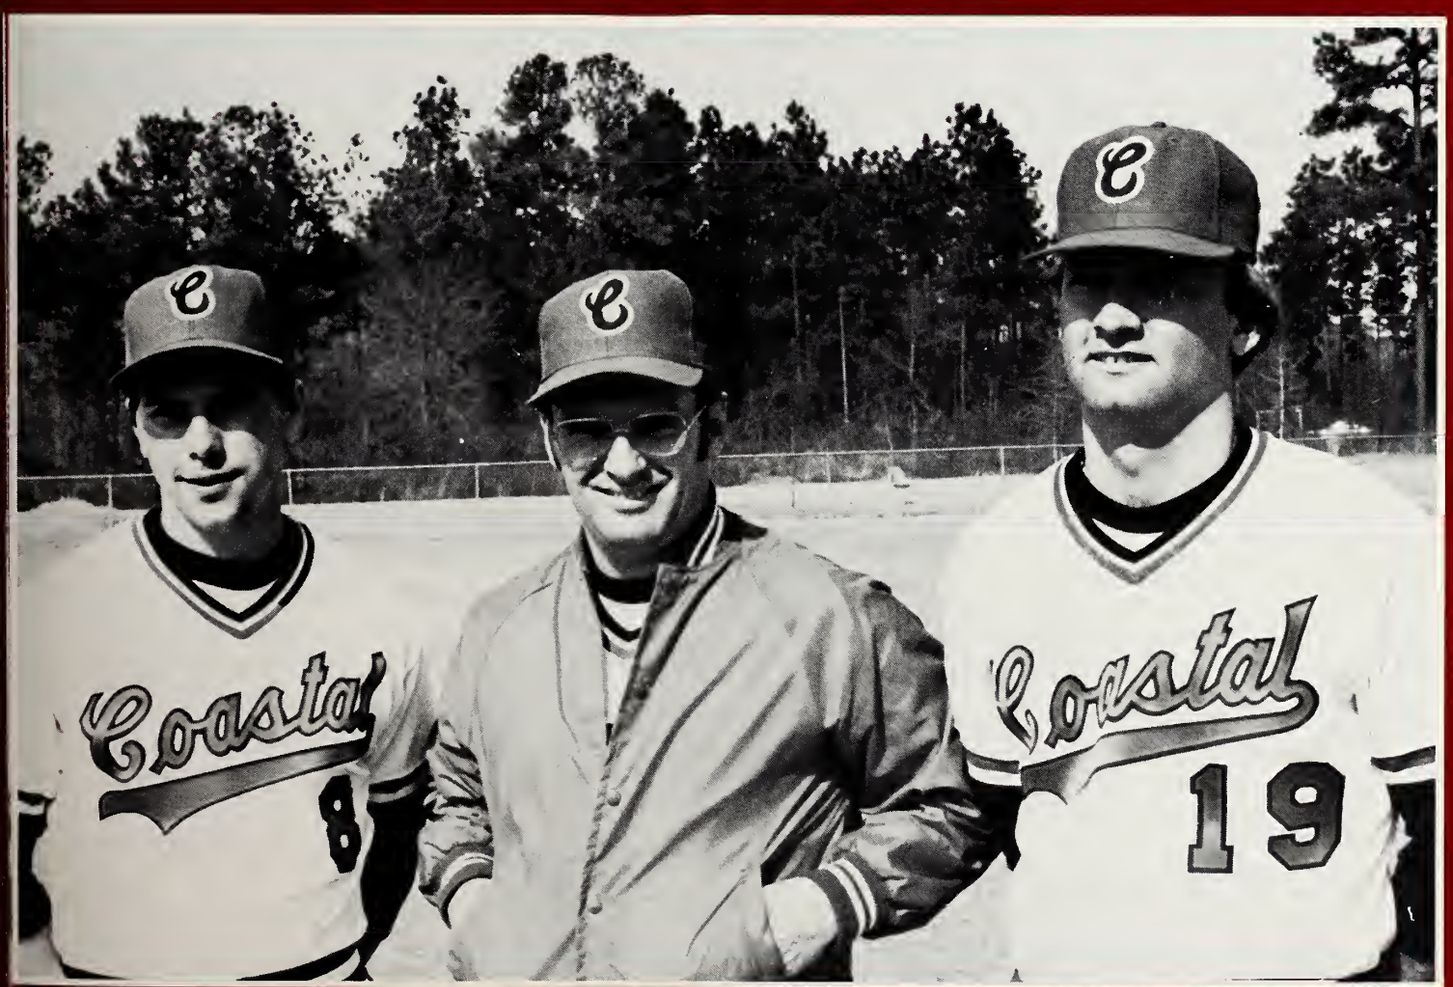

However, the major leagues did not miss Coastal. Coastal sent three players to the National League. Outfielder Tom Romano was drafted in the 14th round by the Kansas City Royals. Pitcher Steve "Ice Man" Smith went to the Toronto Blue Jays in the 21st round and catcher Ken "KC" Chandler was signed by the Minnesota Twins after the draft.

Front row: no. 10 Karl Tausch, no. 18 Steve Parsamanan, no. 12 Pete Giordano, no. 7 Don Thibadeau, no. 6 Brian Kukan, no. 11 Eric Heller, no. 8 John Zegarski, no. 5 Steve Tharner, no. 9 Brian Knoess, no. 13 Kevin Holmak.

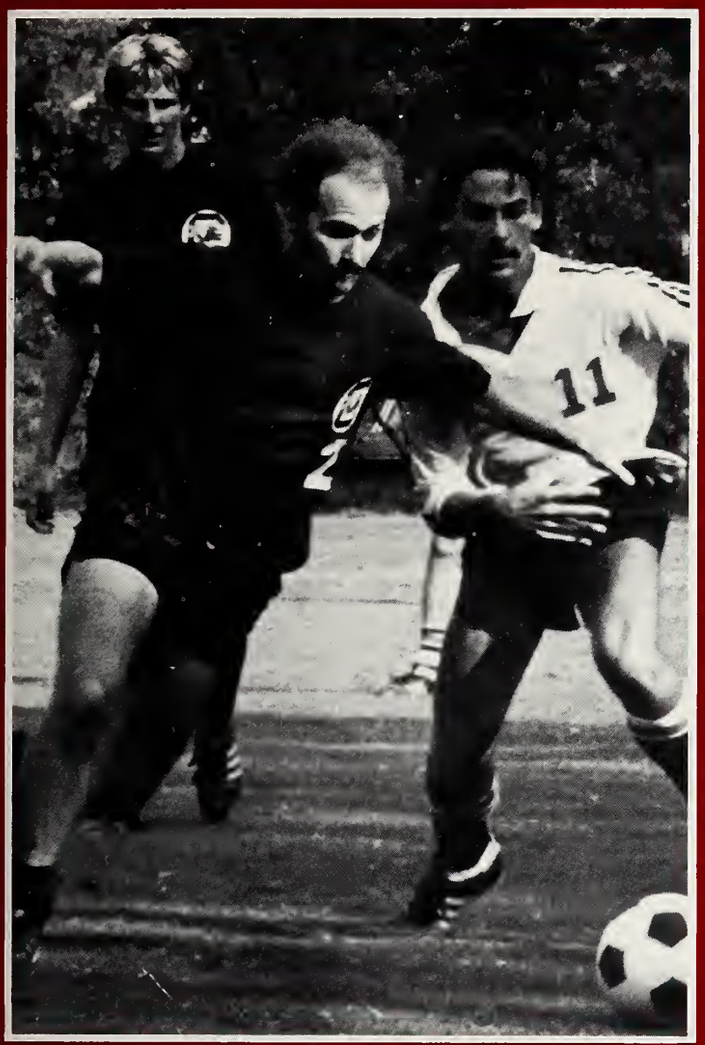

The 1980-81 Coastal soccer team had its best season with a record of 12-4-2. After beating the College of Charleston in district semifinals, Coastal lost to Erskine College 2-1 in District 6 NAIA finals.

During the season, Coastal was ranked 18th in the nation. The team finished the season 10th in the nation in offense with an average of 3.53 goals per game. To gain national reputation is outstanding for a soccer team that has only been around for three years.

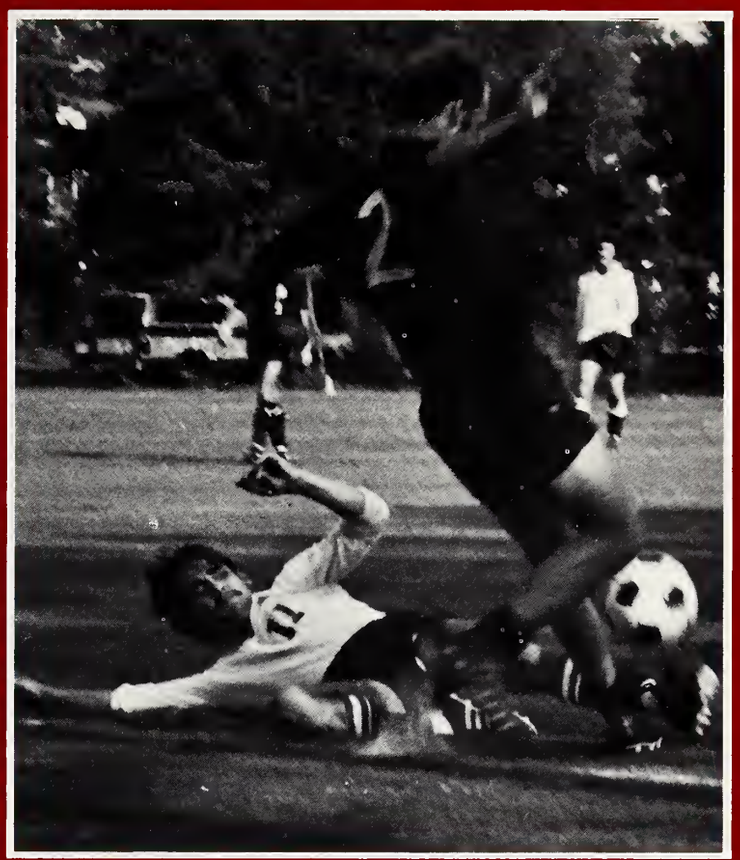

Coastal's most outstanding players were as follows: Brian Knoess, 16th in the nation in goal scoring and goals assisted. Knoess averaged 1.17 goals per game. Bill Dickens finished 11th in the nation in goal tending. Dickens allowed 13 goals all season with 8 shutouts in a row. Steve Warner, Kurt Tausch, and Karl Tausch were also valuable assets to the Chants.

The Coastal Carolina men's tennis team will again be a contender for the district championship. For the last three years, Coastal has been in the top three places in the district, placing third in 1978, first in 1979, and second in 1980. Over the past three years, under the direction of Coach Marshall Parker, the netters have compiled a record of 55 wins and 19 losses. Last year Eddie Gayon and Lester Herbert represented Coastal and the District at Kansas City, advancing to the quarterfinals before being eliminated.

Players returning for the 1980-81 team are South Carolina stars Lester Herbert and Eddie Williams, and Egyptian ace Seif Fahmy. Joining these players will be Philadelphia star Scott Koth, Canadian top-spin artist Robb Benneyworth, Egyptian Khaled El Miniawi, and Kansas City's Joe Christie. Also joining the team this year are Max Davis of Washington state and John Robertson from North Carolina.

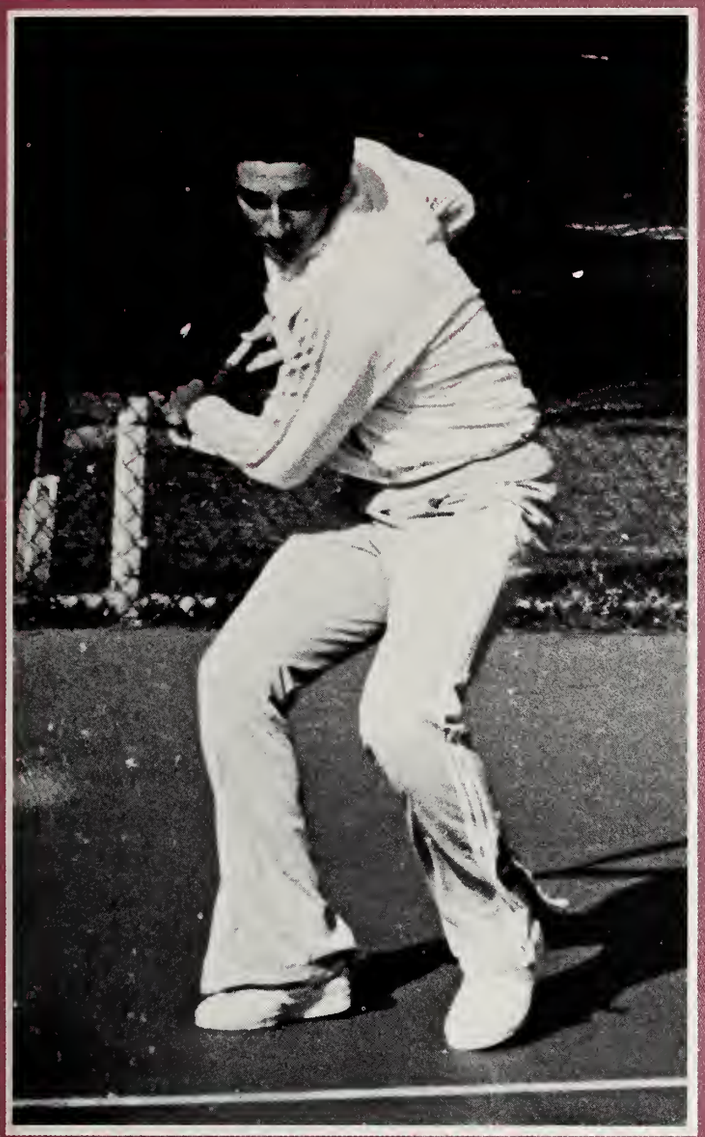

The prospects for 1980-81 school year look good. The team will miss Eddie Gayon and Mauricio Behar at the top of the lineup; however, the team should be stronger down the line than they were last year. The competition in the district appears stronger this year with several teams having much stronger teams than last year. But with so much talent going for them, the team should expect another winning season.

Coastal Goes Caddyshack

The 1979-80 Chant Golf team has recorded its best season. After winning the NAIA District 6 Championship, Coastal traveled to Saginaw Valley, Michigan for the national championship. Coastal's Rick Lowallen placed 7th in the tournament and later finished 9th in the national tournament.

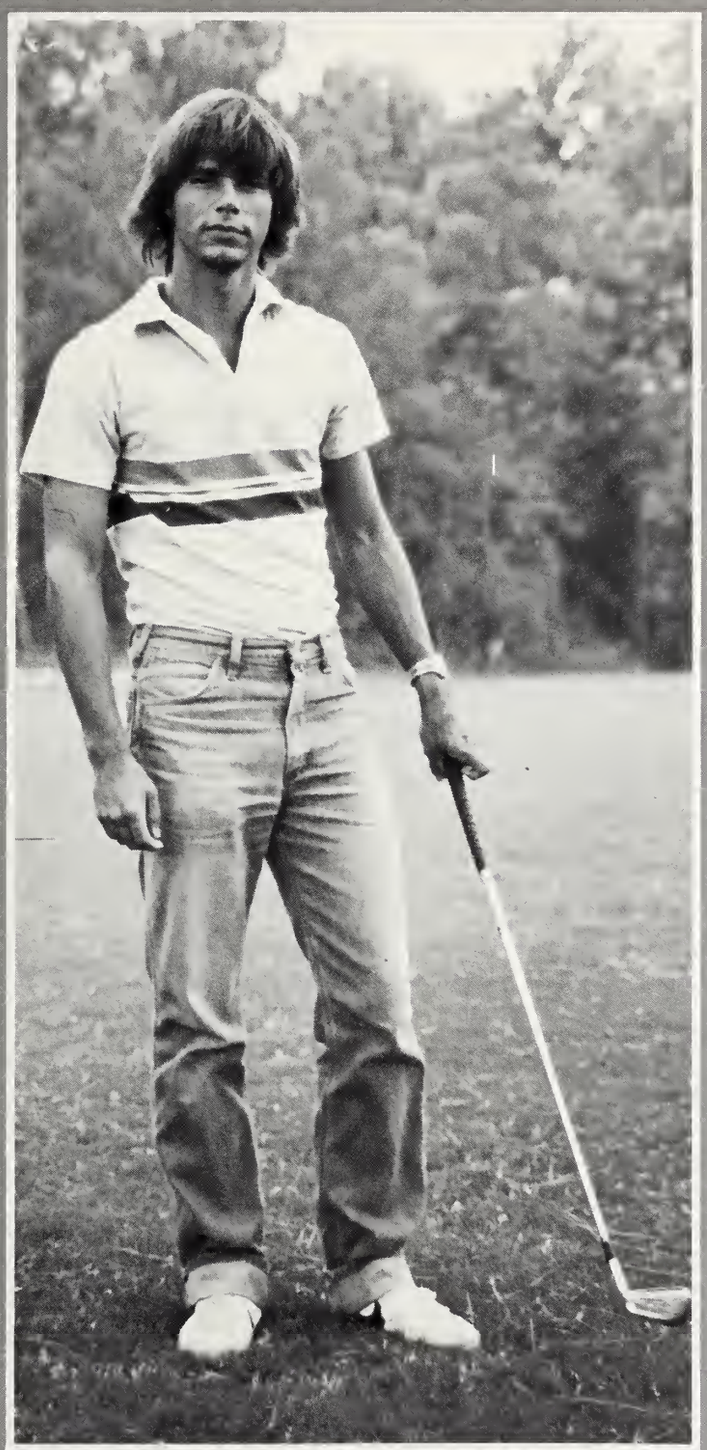

District Medalist Ray Freeman won the Edisto Classic and the Citadel Shadow Moss Invitational for Coastal. Freeman is Coastal's most outstanding golfer. Freeman qualified for such tournaments as the Greater Greensboro Open and the Colgate Hall of Fame.

Coastal had 6 out of 15 golfers to make all district golfers. Charlie Askins and Charles Candidy were outstanding freshmen for Coastal.

Queens of the Court

The 79-80 season was an unexpectedly good one for Coastal's women. The team stunned the physical Education Department with their record of four wins and five losses. That was quite an accomplishment, considering the team was generally inexperienced.

The 80-81 team has a very promising future. Returning players are: senior Jenny Marshall, juniors Dawn Shelley and Sarah Manship: sophomores Cindy Hunt, Chris Jansty, and Wendy Turner, who is ranked statewide. Coach Dame has recruited some local talent for this year's team. They are freshmen Jenny Turner, who is ranked on the state level, Lisa Cleary and Robin Todt. The team will be competing in Division III of the NATA. Their toughest opponents will be UNC Wilmington, Converse College, and South Carolina State. With all this talent, Coastal's women's tennis team should be the best in their league.

Coastal Mourns the Loss of William Kimbell

William Anthony Kimbell 1888-1980

In December of 1980 Coastal Carolina College bid farewell to William Kimbel, who died at the age of 92. Mr. Kimbel had been a long-time friend and very generous supporter of the college for many years. His donations to Coastal total over $2 million, with $1 million two hundred thousand going toward the construction of the new Wheelright Auditorium, pictured here in its various stages of construction.

Chancellor Edward M. Singleton said of Kimbel "His contribution to the quality of life in our section of the state is immeasurable. He had a genuine concern for the welfare of his neighbors and he willingly gave of himself in numerous ways to help make our region a better place in which to live."

The Chancellor also said, "Mr. Kimbel's support of higher education has been instrumental in shaping Coastal into the respected, progressive institution it is today. Because of him, a generation of our young people have been able to enjoy the benefits of a quality college education. He was a kind and generous man and he will be greatly missed."

Kimbel's donations to Coastal include over 100 scholarships, and a contribution toward the Kimbel Center used for Marine Biology and Coastal Research. Our campus library was named for Mr. Kimbel.

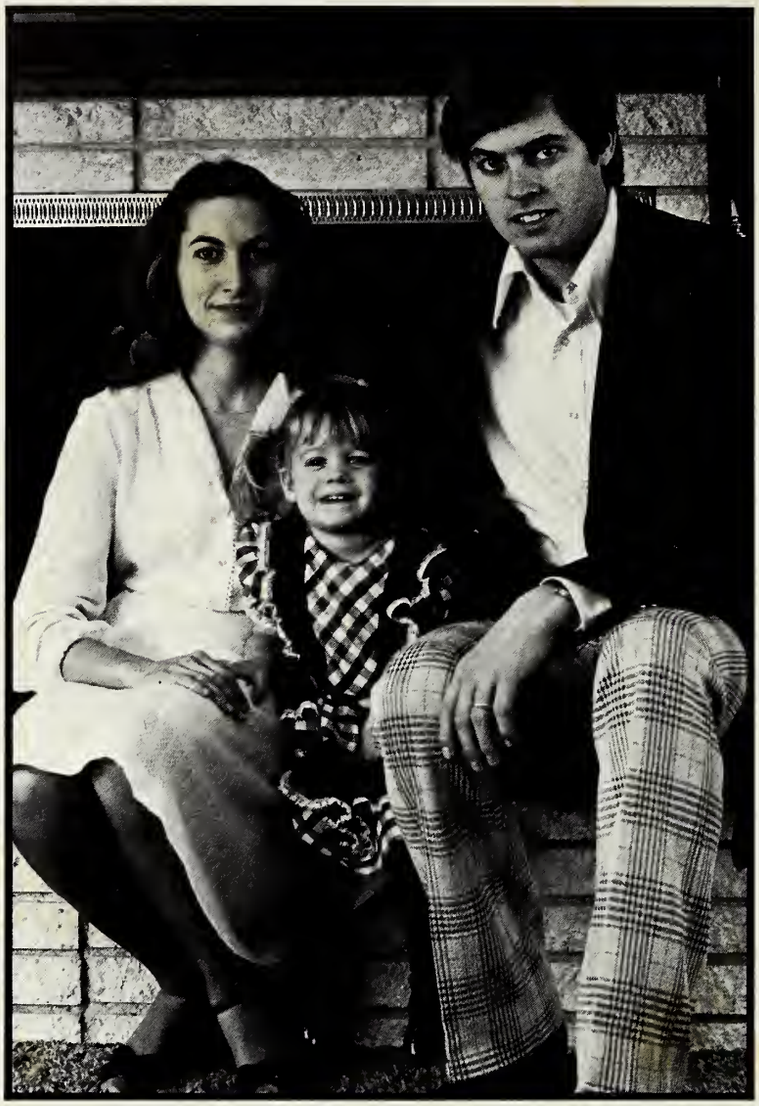

William Anthony Kimbel was born in New York City o January 5, 1888. He received a Bachelor of Science degre from Columbia University in 1909. He became president c A. Kimbel and Son, an architectural and decorative firm. I May of 1978 he received an Honorary Doctor of Humanitie degree from Coastal Carolina College.

Alison Martin, Editor, Christy and Randy

I certainly could not have put this book together by myself, so I did not want to be alone in my picture on the editor's page. My sincere appreciation goes to my husband Randy and my daughter Christy, who put up with an often absent, always harried wife and mother during this past year. Randy's many contributions of photography talent have been invaluable.

There are many here at Coastal who have participated in the production of this year's ATHENEUM. My faculty advisor, Scott Johnson, was always supportive and helpful, giving whenever called upon whatever assistance was needed.

The Media Center personnel were always cooperative. I especially want to thank Bill Edmonds for going out of his way many times to give us help in photography.

In the office of Student Development Mary Harrison, Pat Singleton, Chris McNeill and Dr. Squatriglia put up with my resignations and frustrations, doing all they could to hel me through the rough spots.

This year my staff has made this job bearable. Their cor tributions of time, talent and enthusiasm have meant s much to me. In particular I want to thank Barbara Cha ham, my Assist. Ed. for photography, for so many hours the darkroom and behind the camera, in sickness and health. And Lynne Radcliffe, who went above and beyon the call of duty, doing whatever job needed to be done. M section editors, assistants and photographers, a bi thanks for a job well done.

Clark Vereen, Chanticleer Editor, you have been ready help so many times. I have been proud to have my offic next to yours.

It has been a difficult job and I am glad it is almost ove But these people have been great to know and great work with. Thanks to all of you!
